KAC honors Kingman County employees

Several longtime Kingman County employees recently were honored for their years of service by the Kansas Association of Counties (KAC).

The KAC presents county service awards to employees who have worked for a county for at least eight years. The awards are presented for every four years of service.

Those with at least 16 years of service received certificates and pins. All others were given certificates.

Two employees have worked for the county for more than 30 years. Charles Arensdorf, director of public works, received a certificate for 40 years of service. After the award information was submitted, Kingman County determined that Arensdorf actually has worked for the county for 46 years. (Arensdorf pictured at right)

Sheriff Randy Hill was honored for 32 years of service. (Hill and County Commissioner Carol Voran pictured at left.)

Others receiving service awards were Steve Ramsey, community service, 16 years; Mark Schnittker, custodian, 8 years; Sara Hager, register of deeds, 8 years, and Carol Voran, commissioner, 8 years.
